

Getting to Your Farm Stay

Driving in New Zealand can be very different to driving in your own home country. Some farm stays are a significant distance from cities and towns, and getting there can take longer than first anticipated. Rural Holidays NZ Ltd issues individual host documentation to visitors travelling independently.

If transfers are required ex a coach service, they can be arranged for an additional cost